STATE SENATOR JONATHAN "JP" PERRY
RECEIVES OUTSTANDING FAMILY ADVOCATE AWARD

Baton Rouge – The Louisiana Family Forum (LFF) recognized District 22 State Senator Jonathan "JP" Perry with the Outstanding Family Advocate award.

"When I was elected to the Louisiana Legislature I said I was committed to protecting Louisiana's traditional family values. I have continued that commitment and dedication," Senator Perry said.

To receive the Outstanding Louisiana Family Advocate award, a legislator must achieve a perfect rating on the LFF Action's annual scorecard.

"LFF chose key votes to provide an honest snapshot of Louisiana lawmakers who support family values, life and limited government at the State Capitol," LFF President Gene Mills said. "We commend Sen. Perry for his principled positions and hard work during the 2013 Legislative Session."

Fifteen representatives and seven senators earned the Outstanding Family Advocate award by scoring 100 percent on LFF's Scorecard. The 22 legislators will receive LFF's coveted Patrick Henry Award during LFF's 2013 Annual Legislative Awards Banquet Thursday, September 26, 2013, at The Healing Place Church Arena in Baton Rouge.

"Traditional family values are under a direct and strong attack not only in Louisiana but also in our great country. I continue to state that the issues associated with this award are the reasons I fight for our families and children in Baton Rouge," Perry said.

Senator Perry represents Acadia, Lafayette, St. Landry and Vermilion parishes.
